

LEGAL TRANSLATION SERVICES

Legal documents come in many forms, including patents, litigation matters, insurance policies, claims, contracts and so many more. All of these documents are enforceable in a court of law. As a result, these documents must have a single, governing interpretation that can be upheld in a courtroom. Turn to Technovate Translations, a company dedicated to translating legal documents accurately, so your legal documents will always mean the same thing in the source language and the destination language. We also provide certified translation services that typically go hand in hand with legal translations in Canada. Let us help!

Why Technovate Translations?

Our translation company can provide certified translation services both in Canada and the United States. This requires specific translators to translate the documents so that they are properly certified and ready for evidentiary or official use. Simply let us know you need a certified translation and we'll quote you accordingly.
